TODAY'S WORD: To Dare Greatly

AFFIRMATION: Connected by Love, open and wholehearted in the world, with courage and curiosity I am vulnerable to all that life has to offer.

I dare greatly when I live with open, wholehearted and authentic vulnerability in the world.

I am not weak when I am vulnerable. I am courageous and curious to all that life has to offer. Vulnerability is how I explore the abundant potential and possibility of my life with connection, courage and curiosity.

This is how the desire of Love, and the desire for Love, directs me to show up in my life, and in the world. Putting aside my mask, and taking off my armor, I open myself to the true experience and expression of the power of Love. In this way Love empowers a fuller connection, union and harmony with life and others.

Living with the courage and curiosity of open and wholehearted loving vulnerability, I create a sacred and safe space for others to do the same. Connected by loving vulnerability I am able to accomplish better communication and collaboration with others to achieve our mutual best and highest, collective and common good.

This is what it means for me, to dare greatly.

SACREC TEXT: John 15:4 “Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself.”

Inspirational Quotes on Daring Greatly by Brene Brown.

We cultivate love when we allow our most vulnerable and powerful selves to be deeply seen and known, and when we honor the spiritual connection that grows from that offering with trust, respect, kindness and affection.

Love is not something we give or get; it is something that we nurture and grow, a connection that can only be cultivated between two people when it exists within each one of them - we can only love others as much as we love ourselves.

Vulnerability sounds like truth and feels like courage. Truth and courage aren't always comfortable, but they're never weakness.

Vulnerability is the birthplace of love, belonging, joy, courage, empathy, and creativity. It is the source of hope, empathy, accountability, and authenticity. If we want greater clarity in our purpose or deeper and more meaningful spiritual lives, vulnerability is the path.
